

Monday 11th January

We have been working to plan and prepare opportunities for our nursery children to continue to enjoy learning through purposeful play at home. We aim to provide creative opportunities for families to learn together as they develop key life skills and enjoy joining in with favourite stories and rhymes recorded by our staff team.

We will post learning opportunities onto our blog and 'remind' on a Monday to enable you to take part during the week when it is convenient.

Can you show your adult how to wash your hands properly and count all the way to number 20?
Can you challenge yourself to count backwards from 10 to 0 or maybe even from 20 to 0. Harry Healthy will be super impressed.

Click on the link below the post to view our story.

We encourage you to post any learning your child has been enjoying at home on their learning journal. It is a great way for us to keep in touch.

Adam Active likes us to keep fit and healthy, we love taking part in P.E with Joe. Here is the link...

Life Skills

The skills children need for life.

Rolly Responsible has set you some tasks for the week.

- Can you make your own bed in the morning?
- Can you get yourself dressed?
- Can you help to make your own lunch?
